

NEW-YORK DAILY TRIBUNE MONDAY, MAY 12, 1862.

going on for several days previous to this time. It is estimated that over 40,000 men were engaged and held as a reserve in the battle of Shiloh, a large number of the regiments having been recruited on their retreat, and hastened to the scenes of battle.

Capt. Ward of the Florida Regiment is reported killed, Col. Franklin d. of the 10th Virginia, wounded, and a Colonel and Lieutenant Colonel of the 2d, killed. The loss of the Rebels is about 10,000 killed and 15,000 wounded and taken prisoners; our own loss, in killed and wounded, about 1,200.

Among the surgeons of the Rebel army taking care of their sick and lame is Thomas M. M'aur, a resident of New York, and a nephew of Prof. M'aur. His wife and relatives are living in Washington. M'aur is connected with the 1st Virginia Regiment. Two of his brothers are also in the Rebel army and navy. He is here in high life but the Southern Conchancy will yet be triumphant, and states that he expresses the opinions of the mass of the Southern people.

LATEST FROM WILLIAMSBURG.

From Our Special Correspondent. Williamsburg, May 7, 1862.

The trains, artillery, and other heavy vehicles, begin to arrive, but the great supply train is yet to hand, as is the large body of troops. When last heard from, the Rebels were pushing toward Richmond, and had shown no sign of ceasing across James River. They are a good deal demoralized, if we are to believe the stories of deserters and prisoners, from having been compelled to abandon their strong line on the Peninsula. It was the loss of a flank movement, that caused them to fall back. Nowhere else have they been strong in line, nor can they fall back so far as to be secure from flank attack. Hence it is difficult to see where they can make a stand with hope of success.

Last night our pickets captured about 300 prisoners, mostly stragglers left behind, as stragglers wherever they are. The weather is fine and the roads will rapidly improve—two highly essential considerations.

Evidence going to show that the Rebels suffered very severely in the fight seems to be. Dead bodies continue to be found in all directions in the suburbs, and along the road each side of the village.

LIST OF THE KILLED AND WOUNDED AT WILLIAMSBURG.

FIRST EXCELSIOR REGIMENT, COL. DWIGHT.

KILLED.

Capt. Dwight, Major McConnell,

Capt. W. H. Rogers, Capt. J. C. Jones,

Capt. John C. Jones, Lieut. Frank H. Nelson,

Lieut. W. H. Miller, 2d Lieut. Wm. H. King,

2d Lieut. H. Haynes, Capt. F. V. Weston,

Sergt. R. H. Harvey, Sergt. John A. Weston,

Sergt. John A. Weston, Sergt. John G. Weston,

Sergt. John G. Weston, Sergt. John G. Weston,

<p